THE IMPORTANCE OF LOVE IN WORKING WITH AND THROUGH A CRYSTAL

A crystal by itself has no intrinsic power except the fundamental note, or variation of its crystallographic form. A radionic evaluation of the vibration of the double-terminated four-sided healing crystal is 454. The same 454 vibration is observed with a metatronic measurement of water, which has been purified by reverse osmosis. The single quartz crystal, cut and tuned to the vibration of the water molecule, is an apparatus to transfer by resonance a vibration from the crystal to the body of a receiver. The vibration is absorbed in the fluid portion of the body, the blood stream.

It becomes critically important that the intention and will of the operator utilizing a crystal be precise, clear. This is obtained by making a small affirmation or prayer prior to treatment, with the crystal held in the appropriate hand of the healer. You serve the individual for their highest good and not with a desire or will on the part of the person doing the healing.

With the opposing hand placed on the shoulder of the individual, you then imbue the crystal with the thought of love and well being. This establishes a primary carrier wave, which now works to open the thymus gland and establishes a resonance transfer of this vibration into the body of the healee. A transfer is accomplished when you feel a vibration in the receiving hand. For each up and down movement of the crystal the appropriate vibration is felt in the receiving hand. The individual now takes a deep breath and transfers this vibration [love] by the indwelling and outgoing breath. As they do that they will feel a localization of the charge in the area of the body requiring treatment. When they acknowledge this charge is in place, you synchronize your breath with the individuals. Then direct them in a quiet, meaningful, way to go to the source of what is causing their difficulty. You build this field up in a loving manner, as the image forms again into the mind of the healee. Prepare the healee by telling them to release their breath explosively on the command, "Release!" Then both of you draw in your breath together so that the charge is through the witness area, into the crystal. When this is accomplished, expell the breath suddenly from your bodies with the command, "Release!" This is the procedure which is fundamental to all crystal therapy and it is emphasized that you must be clear from any preconception or intuition of what you wish to do, so that you link with the very essence of the activity of that person's subtle body. When you work in a loving manner: a soul contact is established between the healer and the healee; you are protected from any negative vibration coming from the person being treated; you do not interfere with Karma, or the will of that individual. Christ said 2,000 years ago, "I come to do the will of the Father, who sent me". We must in this type of therapy be conscious of the will of the individual and not our will. This is accomplished by being loving toward the individual and above all being ready to accept a statement from a patient that I am not yet ready to be healed. Any time we act in a loving manner a patient is benefited, even though at that moment of treatment no apparent effect has taken place. Love is the glue of the universe and helps to keep matter in form. When I love you, I empower you to bring yourself to a state of wholeness.

JOY LAKE SEMINAR

The week-long seminar started off with a bang. We experienced a snowstorm on Sunday. The next day the sun came out in full force and we enjoyed the balmy weather of the mountains of Nevada. Between 15 and 20 people were in attendance. Exercises were given in communication with the trees, herbs, flowers, and we learned from them the interactive forces that they are capable of giving to us. We experienced that our subtle body, we are all One. The interpretations of the group were very accurate as they experienced the herbs in their bodies. We compared their statements with books on herbal medicine and by information from an herbalist who was present. The manner in which the seminar was conducted for this type of interaction was to place the particular herb or flower under a six sided meditation crystal. We drew our essence into the crystal, in my hand, with a breath. Each person present created an image of the crystal in their minds eye and linked, with an outgoing breath, to the crystal. We all experienced the vibration together and then the breath was withdrawn and released from the flower or herb. The eyes were opened and a description was given of what we experienced. We then took a trip through the earth and came out on the opposite side. When we compared where we felt we were, to the actual position on the globe of the world, many of the group ended up in water between Australia and India. This is where we should have come out. Only a few drew on their memory program and said China. The main object of the seminar was to expand consciousness and show that thoughts are things. When we begin to love one another we expand in sensitivity and awareness to that which is around us.

A TEAM OF CRYSTAL HEALING INSTRUCTORS ARE NOW AVAILABLE FOR SEMINARS We have developed a group of presenters that will help you gain greater understanding in the use of the healing crystal. At this time we have four excellent presenters to aid Marcel Vogel in his efforts to get the good news out.

1. Leonard Laskow, M.D. 415/381-5000
2. John Adams, M.D. (So. Calif. only) 213/698-7919
3. Dr. Rozanne Bazinet, PhD 916/265-5133
4. Robert Fritchie, 408/659-2862

THE RADIONIC ASSOCIATION OF ENGLAND ANNUAL HEALING CONFERENCE

Marcel and Mary Vogel, Dr. Leonard Laskow, Dr. Ward and Joan Lamb, Dr. Rozanne Bazinett and Linda Blackner had great adventures. Chance meetings and divine intervention were common while traveling with Marcel, and the crystals. A number of people who were interested in what we are doing appeared without logical connection.

The highlight of the Conference was Dr. Peter Guy Manners, O.P.M.S. Presenting his work with cymatics/sound therapy as used in the healing of patients. Marcel made a 45 minute talk after the dinner and many people stayed late into the night to experience working with members of the P.R.I. team.

LUBBOCK, TEXAS TRIP

In Lubbock, Texas, Marcel gave a lecture on crystals used in healing. With him were G. Fay Ferris-Stricherz and Matt Stricherz E.D.D. The talk emphasized the general property of crystals as a therapeutic agent and demonstrations were given in the effect of these technologies as applied to various conditions of distress that the body suffers. A treatment was given to a man who had undergone an operation on his knee. Holes had been drilled into his kneecap. At the time of treatment he was suffering from the pain of the operation and was walking with a cane. During the treatment with a crystal the pain ceased. The man was still able to walk without pain on the following day. A subsequent check, a week later, showed that the pain treatment had held, with an accelerated recovery. It has been found from repeated observations that with the use of crystals, a release of the trauma from an operation occurs and the tissue regenerates in an accelerated form. This was demonstrated again and the treatment was recorded on video tape. The work now is being carried on by the Stricherz. They are holding subsequent meetings with the lecture participants. They plan to extend and amplify the work that was started in Lubbock, Texas.

NORTH CAROLINA TRIP

This lecture was organized by the Sufi Healing Order. There were over 400 people in attendance. Three sets of lectures were given, one to the entire group, and two afternoon workshops.

The primary subject was the general description of the theory and methodology of crystals as a therapeutic device. The importance of love and loving detachment was emphasized. It was stressed that the primary object of this form of therapy is to assist the subject to heal themselves. No diagnostic procedure is used except to have the person go within themselves, to see what needs to be done. If they can either see or feel the disturbance, they are then led to releasing this vibration. They must fill that void with love and well being. A dramatic example was given to the group by a woman who came on stage devoid of any evidence of a bioenergetic field. She was suffering from acute depression and a very low self image. After the treatment she was radiating energy, smiling and literally running around the grounds of the university. At the end of the third day of the conference she was stronger than ever, bubbling with enthusiasm and the will to live.

EXPERIMENT #13 OBSERVING & EXPERIENCING THE HEALING POWER OF HERBS

Procure from your health food store a set of herbs: a. peppermint, b. rosemary, c. cloves, d. thyme. Make a paste of the herb by mixing gelatin in water. Take a drop of this preparation and place it under the bottom of your meditation crystal. Hold the crystal between your hands, and go with thought into the crystal. Release your breath and then mentally link to the herb that is present at the base of the crystal. As you link to the essence of the herb, you will experience the odor of this particular essence, and it will fill the room. Peppermint will be unmistakable as you experience that odor in your body.

This next step is to bring this odor into your body, becoming a part of that vibration. This is the essential transition from your experience of the sense, to a super-sense. Hold this experience and then ask the question, "What is the therapeutic value of this herb?"

Release yourself from the crystal by breathing in and out. Put the crystal aside. Record your experiences to the best of your ability. Then take the crystal with the herb in your [opposite to your writing] hand. Take a deep breath, go into the crystal with intention and record your experience on a separate page. Do this for each of the herbs and record the feelings in your body twenty four hours later, with no crystal in your hand. Go to the library or purchase a book on herbal remedies, such as Culpeper's Color Herbal, by Sterling Publishing Co. 1983 and compare your experience with what is written in the herbal book. Please write to us on your results and we will respond with a surprise for each of you who respond.

EXPERIMENT 3/4 14 THE HEALING & THERAPEUTIC PROPERTIES OF GEMS

Go to the rock shop and purchase a collection of small samples of various semi-precious stones. Do the same as the above experiment with the gems and note and record the effect on your physical and subtle bodies. Certain gems and stones will produce a rapid change in the activity of your heart, digestion, and rate of breathing. A set of books is given below which can act as an impetus. Search out other types of rock forms as your curiosity grows.

[1. Precious Stones, W. B. Crow, Aquarian, 2. Gems and Stones, A. R. E Press, Virginia Beach, VA, 3. Spiritual Value of Gem Stones, Wally Richardson and Lenora Huett, De Vorss & Co.] You will find recommendations in these books on various therapeutic properties of crystals. Test this for yourself and let me know what you find and experience. Those that respond will be given a special set of rock essences to work with for your own research.

The overall response to these essences can be expanded further with the use of the double terminated healing crystal. This is done by charging the healing crystal with breath, placing a piece of the stone or a spot of the herb on this crystal. Place the meditation crystal on top of the healing crystal where the herb or stone is located. Go into the crystal with meditation. You will experience an even deeper and more profound effect. Try the same experiments with natural quartz crystal.

LABORATORY RESULTS

The May experiments have finally brought the Mendocino Micro Computer into the processing of the EEG, Digital Temperature, BSR, GSR and EMG data. These past four months have been focused on resolving experimental difficulties and developing a solid protocol of experimentation. Reproducible results could now be obtained. We plan for the next series of runs to develop, and use, a double blind set of experiments. These will be crystals, metals and amorphous materials in cardboard tubes. We will observe the influences of these materials on the bio-electric fields of the body. A double blind protocol will also be used with Dr. Laskow's work on the "Essence Chemistry" of Sublimase as projected into the etheric field with intent. The present data is being processed and will be reported on in the following months.

SOUND EXPERIMENTS

The influence of sound in the structuring of water, with Augie Blume, is an ongoing series of experiments. Our initial results show a change in the spectrophotometric values of water, especially in the region of 344 nanometers. Certain tonal patterns enhance, and others depress. We have found that music by Bob Dylan enhances and music by the Jefferson Airplane depress the structuring of water, as shown by the spectrophotometric modifications. A study will be made this month on the influence of harp music vs. drums vs. Tibetan bells. It is essential that a small but significant percentage of salts be present for both the sound experiments, and the structuring with a crystal. This must now be researched in detail.

THE PERKINS MACHINE MAY BE GOING INTO PRODUCTION

This is the Metatronic machine that Marcel Vogel uses in his research. It may be the first such device to become a useful scientific instrument. The machine is electronic and the signal generated can be read out on an oscilloscope. Daniel Perkins arrived at Marcel's home one day with the prototype of this machine. It had come into his mind by inspiration. He also got who was to have the device. He handed the device to Marcel and left. Only a short time before Marcel had prayed for a machine that would measure accurately the subtle energies he was attempting to understand. This unsolicited [on any logical level] device has proved an excellent tool. Contact us for further information.

THINGS TO PONDER

This information seems to have had some influence on the New Testament. The manuscripts were held by the Eastern Churches and they seem to have been Greek translations, originating in Egypt. This translation was published first in 1926 and 1927, in "The Lost Books of the Bible and the Forgotten Books of Eden". [Last month we described the expurgated books that dealt with the early life of Christ. This month we will excerpt the description of the Hierarchy from the "Secrets of Enoch". This is a description of Enoch's ascention, with the assistance of two Angels, through the Levels of Heaven to God Himself. The first Heaven held the storehouses of the various forms of water, and the Angels that are elders and rulers of the stars. Also the Angels who rule the flowers of earth and how they work. The second heaven is the tortured Angels, souls who turned away with their prince who also is fastened to the fifth Heaven. The third Heaven was the wellspring for all good, the Eden, while on the north side it was the hell of torment for those who dishonor God and nature. On the fourth Heaven Enoch was shown the workings of the sun, earth, moon and the universe. The fifth Heaven is a melancholy place where giant soldiers who followed "Satanail" abide. The sixth Heaven held shining bands of Archangels. They measure all life in heaven and on earth. They sing and rejoice before the Lord at His footstool. The seventh Heaven caused terror in Enoch and the Angel Gabriel calmed him and lifted him like a leaf before the face of God. He saw the eighth Heaven, changer of seasons and the twelve signs of the zodiac. He saw the ninth heaven where the signs of the zodiac reside. In the tenth Heaven Archangel Michael presented Enoch to God. The Lord calmed Enoch, and ordered equipment for Enoch to write. He wrote three hundred and sixty six books, chronicled the story of creation as told to him by God.

Enoch is allowed to return and instruct his children. With lamentations, trials and tribulations, the work is revealed. Enoch quotes God as saying, "I have put every man's work in writing and none born on earth can remain hidden nor his works remain concealed."

BOOK REVIEWS

LOVE, Lao Russell, the University of Science & Philosophy (see below)
This is a very practical book on the vital principles of loving and being loved. Practical exercises are given on developing an empathy towards our fellow man and the taking of this knowledge into our daily life. A book that is highly recommended for all ages.

COLOR, Faber Birren, Citadel Press, Lyle Stuart Inc., 120 Enterprise Ave., Secaucus, NJ 07094

This is a general survey on the knowledge of: the body; ancient and modern minds; the harmony of music and color; the human aura; vision healing with color and the psychophysics of color. This is an excellent book to have in your library for a general overview, with a good index of the available information on color.

BIOLOGIC EFFECTS OF ENVIRONMENTAL ELECTROMAGNETISM, H. L. Konig, A. P. Meeger, S. Lang, and W. Sonning, Springer-Verlag, New York $75.00
Two surprises in this book are the studies on the divining rod phenomena and the biologic effects of geomagnetic fields which effect the human body. Excellent electrical measurements on human bodies are given in this article. Another very important chapter is the biological activity of higher frequency fields and physio chemical reactions. Any individual working with crystals, should be aware of the atmospheric effects of very low frequency radiation from 10-15 Kilo Hertz and the long waves from 4-12 Kilo Hertz. These have marked effects on the human body which can interfere or amplify the treatments. Another fine article is, Electrophysical Forces of Natural Origin. In this article terrestrial magnetism is discussed. ELF and ULF atmospherics are shown to have a powerful effect on human bio-energetics. An excellent reference book.

KYMATIK/CYMATICS, Hans Jenny, Basilius Presse AG, Basel, Switzerland
A two volume set. [outstanding photographs] It shows, in a remarkably clear way, how vibration produces form. These forms in turn are the reform for nature in building it's various types of mineral, plant and animal forms. This is a book which must be slowly and carefully studied. The original text, in German, is accompanied by the English translation. So often the translations do not do justice to the original text. The author separates vibration from tone. An example shows that with Bach's Tocatta and Fugue in D minor, a unique formal structure emerges, the effect of sound on a liquid being vibrated on a membrane surface. What is particularly good about this book is that it will encourage experimentation. A highly recommended book for anyone wishing to expand their thinking in the utilization of crystals for therapy.

SCIENCE OF HERBAL MEDICINE, John Heinerman, Bi-World
A useful adjunct to Culpepers Color Herbal, reviewed in the July-August '84 Newsletter. This brings the herbal remedies more up to date and deals with the pharmacological, medical, historical and anthropological aspects of herbal medicine. (good one for your experiments with herbs.) Each issue I will be reviewing new additions to the P.R.I. library and commenting on their significance to the studies undertaken in the labs. This information is not going to be strictly scientific. These books should provide you with further understanding of the subtle energies we are investigating. MV]

DR. WALTER RUSSELL'S BOOKS ARE STILL AVAILABLE

Walter Russell was a renaissance man who, with his wife Lao, founded the University of Science and Philosophy. He was a self educated spiritual scientist who discovered atomic elements and the isotopes of hydrogen. Russell was honored for his painting, sculpture, music, writing, architecture and lecturing. Called the American Leonardo, he left us a great deal of valuable information on topics as current as today. "The Secret of Light" is $27.00, "The Message of the Devine Iliad-Vol. I & II" is $34.00, and "The Universal One" is $105.00. Lao's book, "Love" is $7.50, and "God Will Work With You But Not For You" is $9.00. Glenn Clarks biography, "The Man Who Tapped The Secrets Of The Universe" is $5.45. For a complete list write to Lao Russell, University of Science and Philosophy, Swannanoa, P.O. Box 520, Waynesboro, VA 22980

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Does the healing crystal apply to all people?

A. For the therapy to be effective and meaningful, the person must:

1. be willing to be healed, 2. have a firm resolve to restructure their life, 3. attempt to continue the processes of healing and rebuilding of their physical body by visualizing themselves whole and free from the discomfort they experienced before the therapy, 4. be willing to start the process of loving themselves and seeing themselves in a clear, meaningful, light. Those that cannot do this will revert back and experience the symptoms that they had before. This is especially true for those that suffer deep depression.

Q. Can I heal myself with the crystal?

A. Yes, provided you have the sincere desire to be free from whatever discomfort you are experiencing. To heal yourself, you must first charge the body with deep breathing exercises. Draw in a visualization of white light and stand up in front of a mirror. Thank God for the body He has given you and say, "I love this body without reservation" With this as a base line you can then take a quartz crystal, [a healing meditation or natural] charge it with breath, and then go into the crystal and visualize the discomfort that one is experiencing. It may be spiritual, mental, emotional or physical. If there is pain, go to the source of the pain. Then, visualize the organ enclosed in a shield of white light. In most cases the pain will cease. Then go back into the organ and look for the source of the discomfort or pain. Create an image of the source, and release it from the crystal with an outgoing breath. You can apply this same teaching to working with a physician or therapists. Because, the more precise the description that you can give of the cause of the disturbance, the easier it becomes for the physician to help you to heal.

INTRODUCTION TO THE MIKESELL PAPERS

The two papers, Cellular Regeneration and Structured Water: It's Healing Effects on the Diseased State, are research proposals, written for researchers in the field of metabolic and degenerative diseases. The purpose of these papers are to inspire the researchers in designing experiments using structured water, vitamins and minerals. Although my literature review includes both experimental and clinical data, it is in no way intended as a set of recommendations for the practicing physician or healer.

Structured water is found next to cellular membranes and the cytoskeleton in the cytoplasm of healthy tissue. The structured water is correlated with aerobic metabolism, an alkaline pH, a high potassium level, with low sodium and calcium levels. Cells and tissues which are in the dividing state, toxic state, or cancerous condition are in an anaerobic metabolic state. The cytoplasm has unstructured water, an acid pH, a loss of potassium, with high sodium and calcium levels. (Szent-Gyorgyi 1973, Wiggins 1972, Ling 1969, Levine and Kidd 1985 pp136-141, Clegg 1979 pp395-396).

The toxic state is produced from free radical damage to cellular membranes, cytoskeleton and cellular enzymes. Structured water and enzymes are found next to the cellular membranes and cytoskeleton. This structured water changes the conformation of the enzyme molecules and the rate of the enzyme reactions. (Beall 1979 pp 271-291, Levine and Kidd 1985, pp136-141, Clifford et al 1968) Free radicals are the result of anaerobic metabolism and/or metabolic poisons which destroy the body's antioxidant defense system. These antioxidants include Vitamine A, Vitamine C, Vitamine E, NADP, Co-enzyme Q10, Selenium, Zinc, and Copper. The vitamins and minerals are co-enzymes which are necessary for the antioxidant enzyme reactions in reversing the toxic conditions. (Levine and Kidd 1985, pp 14-42, Bradford et. al. 1981). The research proposals are both extensive literature reviews on how to form structured water; the natural occurrence of structured water in healthy tissue; the toxic condition with the consequent loss of structured water, vitamins and minerals; and the use of structured water, vitamins, and minerals to reverse the toxic condition.
